WEEK #14 NOTES :

The playoff field is set. They entire Galaxies division made it, including this year's lowest scoring team. It's if you win not how you win. I finished with 1277 points, the second highest season point total in league history, but my 93 this week was not enough to avoid losing to Randall's high score of 113. Grumble grumble. Randall also parlayed that high score into a Wild Weekend victory. MJD's 32 points at x16 helped Mr. Cox reach 1577 points. Randall enters the playoffs on a four game winning streak and is probably the team to beat, although several other teams have been posting high scores in recent weeks as well. Should be interesting. Good luck.
